This is due to the highly volatile nature of the price of Digital Currency and the period of time that may be required for completing the transaction, as further detailed below.

5.3. The final Price of your transaction (the "Final Price") will be the price which appears on the Site upon:

- i. our receipt of confirmation of payment from the relevant mobile money provider with respect to Mobile Money payments made by you;

5.5. As soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, and subject to the completion of our KYC process to our satisfaction, we shall execute your order at the Final Price (the "Execution"). Until Execution, any order by you shall be considered as pending and not completed, and shall not be binding on us whatsoever.

5.7. Any payment by us to you, whether of Fiat Money or Digital Currency, shall be paid after deduction of any applicable fees, including the commission fee, which shall be displayed on the Site at www.coinmama.com/faq.

5.8. Cancellation Policy. You acknowledge that Executed transactions are non-cancellable and you cannot change or reverse any transaction - whether completed or pending (including any order in which the Wallet Address has not yet been verified by you, as described in section 4.7 above).

Notwithstanding the above, the Company, in its sole discretion, without any obligation whatsoever, may endeavour to comply with a request from you to cancel a transaction on your Account. Subject to applicable law and regulation, in the event the Company cancels your purchase order after having received Fiat Money from you with regards to such order, the Company will refund such funds to you minus any costs or expenses incurred with regards to such refund, including without limitation any bank charges, currency exchange charges and/or payment processing charges. Any return for a cancelled transaction shall be at an exchange rate determined in the Company's sole discretion.

5.9. Unsuccessful Payments. If your payment method is declined, whether due to insufficient funds or deemed unsuccessful for any other reason, you agree that the Company, in its sole discretion, may: (i) cancel any applicable transaction; (ii) fulfill a portion of that transaction; or (iii) debit alternative payment methods provided by you, in the amount necessary to complete a pending transaction. In the event of termination of any transaction the Company will make reasonable efforts to provide you with notification of such termination.

5.10. Ownership of your Wallet Address. For the purpose of executing any transaction, you guarantee to use and provide the electronic wallet address owned by you exclusively and which is under your sole and full control to which the Digital Currency purchased by you will be transferred.

5.11. The Company reserves the right to deny processing any order, or cancel any pending transaction if:

- i. required to do so by law, regulation, competent court order, or other competent authority;
- ii. the Company considers any such order or transaction as violating any provision of these Terms of Use, or applicable law or regulation;
- iii. it exceeds any limit which may apply to the number or volume of transactions in any given period, in accordance with Company's policies, as may be amended from time to time, or any other applicable laws and regulations; or

18. Risks

18.1. The trading of goods and products, real or virtual, as well as virtual currencies, involves significant risks. Prices can fluctuate on any given day. Due to such price fluctuations, you may increase or lose value in your assets at any given moment. Any currency, virtual or not, may be subject to large or sudden shifts in value and may even become worthless. There is an inherent risk that losses will occur as a result of buying, selling or trading anything on a market. You should be aware that the risk of loss in trading or holding Digital Currencies can be substantial.

18.2. Digital Currency trading also has special risks not generally shared with official currencies or goods or commodities in a market. Unlike most currencies, which are backed by governments or other legal entities, or by commodities such as gold or silver, Digital Currency is a unique kind of currency, backed by technology and trust. There is no central bank or government regulator that can take corrective measures to protect the value of the Digital Currency in a crisis, issue more currency, or balance the price fluctuations.

18.3. Instead, Digital Currency is an autonomous and largely unregulated worldwide system of currency firms and individuals. Traders and market participants put their trust in a digital, decentralized and partially anonymous system that relies on peer-to-peer networking and cryptography to maintain its integrity. Thus, the value of Digital Currency may be derived from the continued willingness of market participants to exchange Fiat Currency for Digital Currency, which may result in the potential for permanent and total loss of value of a particular Digital Currency should the market for that Digital Currency disappear.

18.4. Digital Currency trading may be susceptible to irrational (or rational) bubbles or loss of confidence, which could collapse relative to demand and supply. For example, confidence in Digital Currency might collapse as a result of unexpected changes imposed by software developers or others, a government crackdown, the creation of superior competing alternative currencies, or a deflationary or inflationary spiral. Confidence might also collapse because of technical problems, for example, if the anonymity of the system is compromised, if money is lost or stolen, or if hackers or governments are able to prevent transactions from settling.

18.5. Transactions in the Digital Currency may be irreversible, and, accordingly, losses due to fraudulent or accidental transactions may not be recoverable.

18.6. Due to the nature of Digital Currency, any technological difficulties experienced by the Company could prevent the access or use of a Member's Digital Currency.

18.7. The abovementioned is not a closed list, there may be additional risks that we have not foreseen or identified in our Terms of Use. You should carefully assess whether your financial standing and tolerance for risk are suitable for buying, selling or trading Digital Currency.

18.8. The Company uses banking providers in order to receive your funds and to make payments. Our banking providers do not transfer Digital Currency, exchange Digital Currency, or provide any services in connection with Digital Currency.

18.9. Markets for Digital Currency have varying degrees of liquidity. Some are quite liquid while others may be thinner or illiquid. The Company does not guarantee any profit from trading or any other activity associated with the site.

18.10. IN LIGHT OF THE ABOVEMENTIONED RISKS, WHICH ARE NOT A COMPREHENSIVE LIST, YOU SHOULD CAREFULLY CONSIDER IF HOLDING DIGITAL CURRENCY IS SUITABLE FOR YOU DEPENDING ON YOUR FINANCIAL CIRCUMSTANCES.
